

Lattice Training Plan – 1st of April 2024 to 24th of June 2024

"Base phase: Well done on such great gains in your testing! This block of training will aim to prepare you for the summer climbing season. We will build on previous blocks by having a diverse training structure that takes your excellent progression in base work to some more pump power endurance while keeping some focus on strength/power climbing as well. Your fingerboarding will diversify to some one arm work and some pinch work. Your conditioning aims to bring your pull strength up as a priority and we will do this through pulling sessions as well as accessory exercises and shoulder conditioning. "
